API Agreement

This document is an agreement between a crypto exchange and users who use its API (Application Programming Interface). Use of the API implies full acceptance of the terms and conditions below.

Terms of Use

The user must use the API in accordance with the rules and conditions set by the crypto exchange. The API can only be used to trade cryptocurrencies on a crypto exchange. The user may not use the API to conduct fraudulent or illegal activities.

Safety

The user must ensure the security of his account and API keys. The user must immediately notify the crypto exchange of all cases of security breach. The Crypto Exchange is not responsible for losses incurred by the User due to violation of the security of the account and API keys.

Use restrictions

Crypto Exchange may set limits on the use of the API, including but not limited to limits on the number of requests, limits on trading volume, time limits and other restrictions.

Responsibility

The user is responsible for all actions performed using API keys. The Crypto Exchange is not responsible for losses incurred by the User as a result of using the API.

Termination of use

The Crypto Exchange has the right to terminate the use of the API by the User at any time without explanation. The user has the right to stop using the API at any time.

Changes to the terms of the agreement

The crypto exchange has the right to change the terms of this agreement at any time. Changes come into force from the moment they are published on the website of the crypto exchange. The user should periodically check the terms of this agreement for changes.

Confidentiality

The user must ensure the confidentiality of his API keys and not transfer them to third parties. The crypto exchange does not transfer API keys to third parties and does not use them for purposes not related to the use of the API.
